

Ever fancied making music? Producing your own beats?
Performing with professional musicians?

Beats Learning present:

‘Sounds of an Unquiet Mind: The Workshop’.
St Paul’s Centre, Hills Road.
Wednesdays 3:00-5:00pm

Music Workshops for those interested in learning about music technology, production and performance skills, in a relaxed, fun and inclusive atmosphere. No previous musical experience is required, just an appetite to take part.

Beyond having a good time and accruing some new skills, regular participants will begin to compose a piece of music that will be performed by YOU and the Britten Sinfonia Orchestra in several high profile concerts in the summer of 2010!

The workshops are officially recognised by Cambridge Regional College, and upon completion participants will receive a Level 2 OCN qualification.

Best of all the workshops are completely FREE to anyone on income related benefits.

If you are interested please let Richard de Rosa (07921 493423) or Sarah Turner (07816 683548) Know.
